ASPEN DESIGN HOUSE
ALLIED A.S.I.D SENIOR DESIGNER

Denise Taylor and Geneva Podolak Knox are driven by all things design be it art, fashion or travel. With their love for curating an inspirational space, these two dynamic personalities create a personalized design experience from concept to completion at Aspen Design House. "We translate our clients' life experiences into an elevated, well-lived home that will exceed all expectations," they say. While Denise studied fashion in London and went on to complete her masters in Interior Design, Geneva obtained an architectural degree with a focus on interiors. Each of their backgrounds have proven to bring out a uniquely collaborative vision for the clients of their bespoke interior design company. From building a design narrative, selecting textures, colors and materials, to designing one-of-a-kind custom pieces, this duo aims to exceed your interior dreams. Denise and Geneva have just finished two Chicago projects for a client with a confident design taste for fashion, color and pattern. "We loved the client collaboration and designing different aesthetics for each home; we cannot wait to photograph these projects at the end of the summer." Next, the designers will be transforming a young family's home in the Aspen mountains. To describe what it means to be the ultimate Dynamic Woman, Denise and Geneva emphasize the qualities of sophistication, innovation and community involvement.
