Boutique, bespoke, and oh-so-chic!

For Aspen Design House, joy is in the storytelling journey as founder and design director Denise Taylor, MA Allied ASID, working in tandem with senior designer Geneva “Gigi” Podolak Knox, Allied ASID, crafts clients’ unique life experiences into the elevated, bespoke, turnkey homes from Aspen to Italy that have earned the team kudos as interiors visionaries—as well as multiple ASID awards and a spot on the 2024 LUXE Gold List. The uber-creative duo mines art, fashion, culture, history, travel and curated global sources to create projects that clients experience as “their personal fairytale,” says Denise.

Founded in 2020, Aspen Design House draws on the partners’ combined decades of interior design expertise. Denise additionally brings a prestigious London fashion background to the mix, fueling her fearless

Boutique in approach and international in scope, the full-service interior design firm personally curates homes around the world from concept to completion from their Roaring Fork Valley design studio. From understated elegance to playful opulence, literally, no two projects are alike—with even multiple projects for the same client taking singular paths that translate stories of relationship to place into dream spaces that tell the tale of a life well lived.
